In the event of a claim, we have many years of experience which means insureds can rely on optimum support provided by a global network of claims lawyers and on rapid settlement of claims.

Who do we cover?

Management boards, CEOs and supervisory boards assume responsibilities for their companies. However, business activities can quickly result in losses affecting their own companies or third parties – be it from a mistaken investment decision, non-compliance with a newly introduced law or making false statements during a tender process.
