

Political Violence

Our specialist team has extensive experience writing risks including war on land, confiscation, political violence and terrorism both as direct insurance and reinsurance. The cover applies to movable and fixed assets and includes both physical damage and business interruption.

What makes us different?

We have the experience to understand and handle the complexities presented by political risks with a desire to seek quality, tailor-made solutions.

In a dynamic world we appreciate that speed is essential which is why we offer a 24/7 service. This is underpinned by technology in the form of digital stamps and the use of electronic platforms such as PPL.

While we embrace technology, we are committed to developing long-term personal relationships. We collaborate with clients to assess their risks holistically, taking into account perils, clauses, geographies, limits and the client's own participation and security arrangements.
